Instructions for Manuscript Preparation

Software and format: Microsoft Word is preferred. Please do not deliver files that contain hidden text: for example, do not use your word processor's automated features to create footnotes or reference lists.

Page setup: Papers should be double spaced with ample margin. Papers should have the following sections:

1. Title of the paper
2. Name of the author(s) with initials and the name and address of the institution where the work was done must be given. Present address of author(s) may be given if they are different from the above.
3. Abstracts: All papers must have an abstract of not more than 200 words of the significant results reported in the paper. Presentation of numerical results should be avoided as far as possible in the abstract.
4. Key words: 4 key words must be provided for the purpose of indexing and information retrieval.
5. Text: The paper must be divided into sections starting preferably with 'Introduction' and ending with 'Conclusions' and then References

Style: Articles must be written in MS Word and viewable without errors using the latest officially-released version of Microsoft corporation. Other files will not be accepted. Articles may be one large file, or broken into many files.

Tables: Tables should be prepared using MS Word or Excel Tables should be numbered sequentially as they appear, i.e. Table 1, Table 2, etc.

Figures: Figures may be included within the body of the manuscript or may be submitted as a separate file. Figures should be numbered sequentially as they appear, i.e. Figure 1, Figure 2, etc., and a caption should appear directly below each figure. Figures may be GIF or JPEG format.

Mathematical Equations: Authors may create their mathematical equations by using equation editor or may be prepared by their choice and then save the equation as an image, either as a GIF or JPEG file. These files should then be embedded within the text in an appropriate location.

General Instructions

Authors are requested to prepare the manuscript according to the guidelines and it should be brief, clear and to the point. It can be subdivided into sections if necessary. The abstracts must have the summary of the paper. The color figures will be reproduced in full for free of cost in the online edition of the journal. The manuscript must present the results of the original work. The submission of the script will be taken to imply that it has not been previously published and that it is not under consideration for publication elsewhere. If the scripts are accepted for publication, the author should not publish it elsewhere. All contacts and manuscript submission through e-mail only. Reprints may be downloaded directly from website. The responsibility of the contents rests upon the authors and not on the publisher. The Editorial Board reserves the right to make changes if necessary in the manuscript.
